

Final CALL FOR PAPERS--The Second ISETS International Conference

“Boosting Energy Transition for Greener Economy”

November 1-4, 2024, Nanjing, China

Venue: Jinling Mandarin Garden Hotel Nanjing

The International Society for Energy Transition Studies (ISETS) kindly reminds you that the deadline for submissions to the 2nd ISETS 2024 International Conference is June 30, 2024. This prestigious event, hosted by Nanjing University of Aeronautics and Astronautics (NUAA) in Nanjing, China, will take place from November 1-4, 2024.

Nanjing's profound historical significance and scenic charm make it a captivating destination for both academic pursuits and cultural exploration. Nestled along the Yangtze River, Nanjing boasts a harmonious blend of ancient culture and modern vibrancy. Visitors can explore its rich heritage through landmarks such as the Ming Dynasty-era city walls, the solemn Sun Yat-sen Mausoleum, and the majestic Confucius Temple. The city is also renowned for its lush landscapes, including the serene Xuanwu Lake and the picturesque Purple Mountain (Zijin Shan), offering a tranquil escape amidst bustling urban life.

Papers submitted to the conference have the opportunity to be published in one of the special issues (SIs). You are welcome to indicate your preferred SI during submission. Qualified papers will be invited to submit to the appropriate journal based on recommendations by the session chairs. Please note that a recommendation does not guarantee final publication. The papers will be subject to regular review, and all journal requirements must be satisfied.
